FIGHT IN POOL ROOM FATAL TO SHARPTON

Man, 25, Dies at Grady From Injuries Received Three Months Ago.

Injured in a poolroom fight over 20 cents three months ago and admitted to Grady hospital, Larry Sharpton, 25, of 1015 Piedmont avenue, died there Thursday morning as the result of complications from a broken jaw, according to hospital attaches.

Detectives are investigating the circumstances of the case with the view of placing technical charges against Sharpton's opponent in the fight, they said Thursday night.

Sharpton received a fracture of the upper and lower jaw bone when he was hit, it was thought, by a billiard ball thrown by the person with whom he was arguing.

Congestion of the lungs and other complications caused his death, it was said.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Hilda Jean Sharpton; a son, Charles Sharpton, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sharpton, and three sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Davis, Mrs. T. E. Thomas and Miss Doris M. Sharpton, of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, and burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Today is the last day for the payment of 1932 county and state taxes without the additional 10 per cent, according to an announcement by W. S. Richardson, county tax collector, who said Thursday that approximately $900,000 in 1932 taxes remains uncollected.

Beginning Saturday 10 per cent costs at the rate of $1 on all taxes of $100 or less, and $120 for all over $100 will be charged delinquent taxpayers. In addition to this interest at the rate of 7 per cent will be charged from December 19 last. If, as, will be issued on each separate piece of real estate, said Mr. Richardson.

He said that despite the fact that taxes have been coming in slowly the last few weeks, he has on hand enough money to meet the March pay roll of county employees.

J. W. LYLE, 78, DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

J. W. Lyle, 78-year-old retired contractor, died Thursday afternoon at his residence at 2150 Boulevard drive, N. E., after an illness of several weeks. He was a native of Winder and resided there until 12 years ago.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Alma McDonald, Miss Cora Lyle, Miss Mary Lyle and Miss Blodine Lyle, of Atlanta; two sons, F. C. Lyle, of Atlanta, and J. P. Lyle, of Birmingham, Ala.; a sister, Mrs. Tom Parker, of Winder, and two brothers, D. D. Lyle, of Sylvester, Ga., and J. B. Lyle, of Winder. Funeral rites are to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Kirkwood Methodist church, of which he was a member.

The Rev. Paul Muse will officiate, and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

Honorarium Refused

By George B. Shaw

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The Academy of Political Science, sponsor of George Bernard Shaw's forthcoming lecture at the Metropolitan opera house April 11, disclosed today it had made "the usual courtesy offer" to pay Shaw's roundtrip traveling expenses between here and England and that he had declined the money.

1 KILLED, 2 WOUNDED BY OFFICERS' MISTAKE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 23.—(P)—Tom Sizemore, 42, deputized by a prohibition agent to guard a car load of liquor, was killed and Deputy Sheriff Tom Atchley, 38, and his brother, Mack, 29, were wounded today when two sets of officers, apparently mistaking each other for liquor runners, engaged in a gun battle 12 miles east of Knoxville.

Prohibition Agent John Howe was clipped through the clothing by three bullets. A bullet struck Deputy Sheriff Atchley in the eye. Hospital authorities said his condition is serious. His brother was shot through the shoulder, the bullet lodging in his jaw.

First Lady Is a Good Cook

Mrs. Eugene Talmadge, wife of the governor of Georgia, enjoys a reputation of being one of the south's best cooks, and can frequently be found in her modernly equipped kitchen when official and social duties permit. Following are two of her favorite salad recipes: FROZEN FRUIT SALAD—1 quart can of fruit salad mixture, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 1/2 cups whipped cream. Drain off juice. Dice fruit. Bring juice to a boil. Mix flour and sugar together dry. Pour over this the hot juice and bring to a boil until clear. Cool. Mix with fruit again, add mayonnaise, lemon juice and cream. Freeze. Serve on lettuce leaf. FROZEN COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD—1 1/2 cups cream cheese, 1/2 cup chopped pecans, 1/2 cup chopped green peppers, 1/2 cup chopped pimientos, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup whipped cream, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Blend cheese with oil and other ingredients. Add mayonnaise and then fold in cream. Place in refrigerator for three hours or pack in ice and salt for three hours. Slice and serve on lettuce.

THREE MEALS A DAY KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES by Sally Saver

This week I am offering THREE prizes, each a General Foods Cook Book. This cook book is truly a gem for any kitchen. Three hundred and seventy pages filled with delicious and tempting recipes, menus and household hints. Over 600 recipes and here's how you may win one of these cook books.

Here's a new kind of contest for you today. Look through the grocery advertisements in today's Constitution, and see how many of General Foods items you can buy for $1. List them on one side of the paper, be sure your name and address is on the sheet, and do not go over $1. The three people who send in the best list by Thursday noon, March 31, will each be awarded one of the $1.50 General Foods Cook Books.

First this week, I am giving you the five prize winning fish recipes. Here they are, and the winners will be mailed their books Saturday.

FISH CROQUETTES.
Left over cooked fish or canned fish may be used in this way. Two cupfuls finely minced fish, 1-2 cupful white sauce, 1-8 teaspoon paprika, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon grated onion (optional), 1-2 tablespoons finely minced green pepper (optional).
Put ingredients together in order given, adding egg yolk unbroken. Shape croquettes then roll in dry bread crumbs, white of egg diluted with 1-4 cupful of milk or water, and roll in crumbs again. Place in frying basket that has been dipped in hot snowdrift and cook until golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

MRS. ELEANOR CHASON.
Climax, Ga.
BAKED WHITE FISH.
Clean a four or five-pound white fish, sprinkle with salt and pepper inside out. Make a stuffing of: One cup bread crumbs (or bread and crackers, half and half), 1-4 cup melted fat, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon celery salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 teaspoon onion juice, 1-4 cup tomato catsup, 1-2 cup chopped pickles.
Mix well, stuff and sew together. Cut diagonal gashes 1 1/2 inches apart on both sides of the fish and place a strip of bacon in each gash. Brush with melted fat, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, bake until flour is browned, then bake once in 10 minutes. Bake 1 1/2 hours or until flesh is firm and separates easily from the bone.

MRS. WENDELL BAIRD.
345 West Peachtree St., N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

CRAB A LA CREOLE.
Clean thoroughly six large hard-shelled crabs—removing the shells and "maws"—fry in 2 tablespoons of butter until brown; add 1 chopped onion and brown. Then add 1 small can of tomato sauce, 1 tablespoon of chopped parsley, pinch of thyme, 1 bay leaf, 1-2 teaspoon of flour and simmer slowly for 20 minutes. Serve with boiled rice, pouring gravy over rice.

TUNA FISH A LA KING.
Twelve toast points, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1-2 pound can tuna fish, 1-2 cup cooked peas, 3 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives, 1 tablespoon chopped green peppers, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, paprika and salt to taste. Melt butter and stir in flour. Add milk gradually and stir over fire until thick. Boil 1 minute. Add remaining ingredients, season, and serve hot on toast points.

MRS. F. C. PROW.
2428 Boulevard Drive, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.
FISH MOUSSE.
One pound of flounder or halibut fish, 1 pint fresh bread crumbs, 1 cup half milk and half cream, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 teaspoon celery salt, 4 egg whites.
Chop fine 1 pound raw halibut or flounder. Cook 1 pint of bread crumbs from inside of fresh loaf (no crusts) with 1 cup of milk and cream, half and half, to a smooth paste and add the chopped fish. Add the salt, pepper, celery salt and the egg whites well beaten. Bake in oval or round mould set in a pan of water. Cook half or three-quarters of an hour. Turn out on platter. ### Three Meals a Day By Sally Saver

Consequently Sally will pass on to you some of her choicest and most interesting party recipes. Let me hear from you how you like them. SALLY SAVER. THE IN-BETWEEN ENTERTAINING CAN BE LIGHTENED BY A NEW DISH SUCH AS PEANUT CREAM PIE. DON'T FEEL "AT SEA" WHEN IT IS YOUR TURN TO PLAN THE PARTY MENU. EVEN BOILED TONGUE CAN BE A DELICACY.

Between the family birthdays and the club meetings held either at the church or clubroom or home, we always have parties with us. The problem before the mother or the chairman of refreshment committees is "What shall I serve that's new and different?" Here are plenty of new ideas, for all kinds of party foods including main dishes and desserts: CHECKERBOARD ICE CREAM. This variety is made in the mechanical refrigerator, and may be made from store ice cream or from home-made, as you desire. Take a layer of each strawberry and pistachio, or chocolate and vanilla, or any other suitable color and flavor combination, that have been frozen. Place a strip of each in alternate rows in the tray of the mechanical refrigerator. For the second layer, alternate the strips, reversing the order of the rows. If partitions are available, the job is easier. When the ice creams are almost firm, remove any partitions, and finish freezing until hard. Serve in slices.

RAINBOW CAKE.

Bake your favorite white cake recipe in a small loaf pan. When the cake is cold, slice horizontally into three even layers. Spread the bottom layer thickly with green almond paste filling, and the next layer with pink filling. Replace top layer, cover top and sides of cake with plain white frosting. Slice across the loaf, then cut each slice into half to make the slices small and attractive. Other fillings may be used if desired, but keep the color-scheme fillings in mind, so that the final cake slices will be pretty. Another combination is made of devil's food cake with two layers of real orange fillings and white frosting.

ORIENTAL SHRIMP OMELET. One cup small shrimps, 6 dried mushrooms, soaked or canned ones; 1 small sliced onion, 4 eggs, well beaten; 1 teaspoon Chinese soy sauce, salt and pepper to taste. Fry shrimps, mushrooms (sliced in strips) and onion in small amount of shortening over a slow fire. Pour in the well-beaten eggs and mix, then add the soy sauce and season. Fry until light brown, turn out folded over into a hot plate in the usual omelet style. Serve at once.

APPLE BUTTER PIE. One-half cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1-2 cup apple butter, 1 cup apple pulp, 1 cup seed raisins, 2 eggs. Mix sugar and cornstarch, add the water, apple butter, raisins and raisins. Cook till thick, then combine with beaten egg yolks. Cook 10 minutes more in double boiler. Pour into a previously baked pastry shell, top with meringue made from the stiffly beaten egg whites and 4 tablespoons sugar. Bake the pie in slow oven 15 minutes. Bake first 10 minutes in hot oven, then reduce temperature to moderate for rest of baking time testing the filling as for custard.

PUMPKIN ORANGE PIE. To one pint (2 cups) pumpkin pulp add 1 cup rich cream, 1 cup milk, 3 well-beaten egg yolks, 1-2 cup sugar, grated rind of half a lemon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Strain through a sieve, add 1 cup orange marmalade, beat well, then fold in the three stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a pie pan lined with pastry. Bake first 10 minutes in hot oven, then reduce temperature to moderate for rest of baking time testing the filling as for custard.

SPINACH LOAF. Cook 2 pounds of spinach, drain and chop it. While still hot, add 2 beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup fine sifted bread or cracker crumbs. Place in well greased baking dish, cover with half cup buttered crumbs mixed with 1-4 cup hard grated cheese. Bake until top is browned. Serve with topping of French fried parsnips.

FRENCH FRIED PARSNIPS. Scrub and boil parsnips until about tender. Cut them in strips lengthwise, roll in cracker crumbs, then dip in egg mixture and again roll in cracker crumbs. Fry quickly in hot deep fat until golden brown.

BOILED CORN TONGUE. Use a beef tongue, rinse it in cold water, then cover it with cold water and heat slowly to the boiling point. Boil 5 minutes, remove scum and then simmer gently until tender. Slice and serve hot with horseradish sauce. Use a corned tongue.

HORSERADISH SAUCE. Mix 1 cup milk, in which 1 bouillon cube has been dissolved, 1-4 cup grated fresh horseradish, 1-4 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon vinegar and 1 teaspoon powdered sugar. Boil for 1 minute. Serve at once with the corned tongue.

PEANUT CREAM PIE. One cup milk, 3 tablespoons flour, 2-3 cup sugar, 1-4 cup butter, 1-2 cup ground parched peanuts, 1 egg yolk.

Bring to boil the milk with the flour and sugar added after being sifted together. Add the well-beaten egg yolk and the butter. Cook until thick and smooth. Stir in the peanuts and pour the filling into a baked pie shell. Cover with a meringue made from the egg white and 2 tablespoons sugar beaten until stiff. Bake the meringue 15 minutes in slow oven.

ATLANTA JEWS PLAN ANTI-HITLER MEETING

Edward H. Kahn, director of the Jewish Educational Alliance, was named Thursday night as chairman of a special committee to consider plans for a meeting of various Jewish organizations to protest anti-Semitic activities in Germany. Kahn was chosen at a meeting of a group of representative Jews held at the Jewish Progressive Club.

No date for the mass meeting has been fixed, this decision having been left to the special committee. A meeting of the committee will be held in the next few days, it was announced.

MUSSOLINI PLAN LAUDED IN LONDON

MacDonald Tells Parliament Move Will Stabilize Peace of Europe.

LONDON, March 23.—(AP)—Europe's small nations need have no fear of Premier Mussolini's four-power plan for stabilizing the peace of Europe, Prime Minister MacDonald told parliament today in reporting on his visit last week to Rome, Paris and Geneva.

The Mussolini plan, which would combine England, Italy, France and Germany in a sort of international club to preserve the peace, should be carried out within the framework of the League of Nations, Mr. MacDonald said, and provision should be made for consulting the smaller powers when their interests are directly concerned.

"Some of the smaller states are beginning to fear the consequences of this proposal," he said. "That is natural in view of what has appeared in the newspapers, but I can assure them that there is no foundation whatever for their fears."

Some of those fears, he indicated, may have arisen from the fact that Signor Mussolini's plan involves revision of existing treaties.

"Every treaty is holy," said Mr.
MacDonald, "but no treaty is eternal."
He pointed out that the League of Nations covenant, while it enforces respect for treaty obligations, also provides for the revision of treaties
"when conditions arise which might lead to a conflict of nations."

He told the house that there was no truth in a report that he and the Italian premier had discussed turning over the territory of Tanganyika, in east Central Africa, to the German government "as a sort of sop to Chancellor Hitler."

Tanganyika before the war was shared by Germany, Great Britain and Belgium. The German portion became part of the British mandated territory after the war.

CONGRESS VOTES STATE BANKS AID

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)— Congress today completed action on a bill to extend the emergency banking act's lending privileges conditionally to state banks outside the federal reserve system and then recessed until Monday to await formulation of other proposals.

After another day of debate, marked by a warning from Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, that to open the reserve system funds to non-members without the same restrictions required by member banks would hasten the "wreckage" of unsound institutions, the senate passed the house-approved bank bill with some amendments.

Less than half an hour later, the house, which had been in recess waiting for the senate to act, considered the amendment. Both Speaker Rainey and Vice President Garnier were authorized to sign the bill during the recess so President Roosevelt might affix his signature before the reconvening of congress next week.

Conditions Same.
Under the bill as finally approved, state banks and trust companies not members of the reserve system could borrow from reserve banks on the same conditions as member banks.

They must put up security regarded by the lending banks as adequate, must be certified by state banking departments as sound, must maintain reservations the same as member institutions, and undergo a "thorough examination" by the reserve banks.

The securities given for the loans would be eligible for new currency issues by the reserve banks.

Senator Adams, democrat, Colorado, tried to strike out the "thorough examination" requirement, but was unsuccessful. This condition, he said, imposed a "limitation so heavy that rediscounts to non-member banks will be practically impossible."

Glass, along with half a dozen other democratic and republican senators, attacked the Adams proposal.

Clause Prevents Misuse.
Glass said the "examination" requirement was written into the bill by President Roosevelt himself. Under the Adams proposal, he argued,
"thousands of insecure banks might avail themselves of the facilities of the federal reserve banking system, and having so done it might result in their wreckage sooner perhaps than otherwise they would be wrecked."

"Because, naturally," Glass added,
"I should infer that they would present their best ineligible paper—if there be such a thing on the face of the earth as the best ineligible paper —and that would strip the banks of the last vestige of secure assets, and they could not any longer function in the emergency."

To Aid Many Banks.
Although Adams and others claimed few banks would benefit under the bill because of the length of time required for examinations, Chairman Steagall, of the house banking committee, told the house it would afford relief to thousands of state banks
"now under a handicap."

Adams amended his proposal before the senate and concurred in by the house, banks undergoing reorganization would be permitted to issue notes and debentures instead of preferred stock in states where the latter is required to carry double liability.

Another amendment approved extends the bill's provisions to territories and the District of Columbia.

Attacks on the Reconstruction Corporation lending policies and administration of the emergency banking act also were heard during the senate debate.

Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, said the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had been "a failure because it has not accomplished its purpose."

"Siamese Quadruplets"
Born to Atlanta Tabby
Feline "Siamese quadruplets" were born Thursday to house cat belonging to the children of Mr.
and Mrs. William O. Key Jr., 681 Kennesaw avenue, N. E. The four kittens, said to be born to the mother cat, were perfectly shaped and in apparent good health, and were all joined firmly together.

Dr. Raymond F. Thomas, well-known veterinarian, said that it was the first case of its kind ever to come to his attention. The doctor severed the four kittens and expressed the opinion that at least three of them would live. Before the operation the mother cat, deciding to remove them from the place where they were born, conveyed all four at one trip.

COLUMBUS WOMAN TRIED FOR MURDER

Negro Testifies Against Mrs. Gamble After Admitting Actual Killing.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—(AP) Andrew Hunt, negro, pleaded guilty today to a charge of murdering J. R. Gamble, Columbus grocer, and then appeared as a witness against the slain man's widow to testify she plotted the crime.

He said Mrs. Ruth Gamble on several occasions proposed the slaying of her husband, and promised him $200 for the job. He testified she furnished the gun with which Gamble was shot to death the night of February 7 as he left his store on Buena Vista road.

Hunt said he was to collect the $200 when Mrs. Gamble had collected her husband's insurance.

The amount of insurance the grocer carried was not brought out in early testimony. The negro was taken back to the county jail at the conclusion of his testimony.

Judge McLaughlin postponed sentencing him until after Mrs. Gamble's case is disposed of.

Mrs. Gamble, mother of two children, has insisted she was innocent of her husband's death. The courtroom was crowded throughout the day.

Mrs. Gamble testified, drove up to a place where he was playing cards with some other negroes about a week before the killing, blew her automobile horn to attract his attention, and motioned for him to come to the car. He said she told him when to do it.

"Yes, am," he said he replied.

Then, he went on, the woman told him the "little job" was the killing of her husband. He said she told him she would see him later and tell him when to do it.

"Yes, am," he answered again, Hunt said.

He related several later occasions on which said Mrs. Gamble talked to him of the proposed crime, saying she told him "not to change my mind" and threatened to have him killed if he did.

'God's Acre' Plan Used By Piedmont Baptists

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 23.—(AP) Baptists in the country communities of the seven counties comprising the Piedmont Association, are showing marked interest in the "God's acre" program, by which they may make contributions to their church, it is revealed by Dr. W. H. Rich, moderator of the association, following an associational meeting held at Waycross.

The plan calls for the setting aside of an acre, the proceeds from which will be given to the church. In many instances farmers are pledging eggs from a certain number of hens, and farm produce of all descriptions, to help carry on the work of the church at a time when "money is scarce," Dr. Rich points out.

Mrs. Gamble told him where she would place a shotgun for him, and added he found the gun where he had been told it would be.

The day of the crime, the negro said, Mrs. Gamble gave him 20 cents and told him where to stand to shoot the grocer. He said she told him it was a good thing for the purpose because it was raining.

Hunt said Mrs. Gamble told him she would make an outcry after the shooting, but would give him time to get away, and directed him to throw the gun in the river.

He then described the shooting, saying he discharged both barrels of the gun at Gamble, and ran. He said he hid the gun in a ditch, then went home and went to bed. He told of being arrested and later released.

After his release, he said, he went to the store and had a talk with Mrs. Gamble, asking her how much money he was to get. He said she told him she would give him $200, but could not pay him until she had collected some insurance money. He told of getting the gun out of the ditch and putting it in a vacant house.

E. T. Dawson, first witness for the state, said he was the first person to reach Gamble after the shooting. He said his attention first was called by seeing a negro running toward the Gamble house. About that time, he said, Mrs. Gamble ran out of the house screaming.

With the aid of two negroes who passed, and Mrs. Gamble, Dawson said, he carried Gamble to a hospital.

Dr. N. D. Baker described Gamble's wounds, and testified the widow displayed grief at the hospital.

Several witnesses testified for the state later today and court then was recessed until tomorrow morning.

In an outburst of the defense's case before the jury, counsel said Mrs. Gamble was not entirely familiar with her husband's insurance and that not long before his death she had caused him to decline to take out additional insurance. Counsel for defense said it would attempt to show that the negro confessed the crime under duress.

CAMPAIGN PUSHED FOR GEORGIA HALL

Workers Enthusiastic Over New Deal for Warm Springs Patients.

Moving in the double-quick time characteristic of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, workers in the Georgia Hall campaign to honor the president and alleviate human suffering, Thursday set forth upon their mission of raising $100,000 within one week for the erection of a new building to house patients of the Warm Springs Foundation.

Delighted over the prospect of a new deal for the patients in the 40-year-old structure now in use, county chairmen as well as the Atlanta committee responded with enthusiasm to the appeal for action from Cason J. Callaway, of LaGrange, state chairman.

Mr. Callaway was in Atlanta again Thursday and after a conference with Cator Woolford, chairman of the Atlanta group, and vice chairman of the campaign, called upon all Georgians to contribute.

"We should like," he said, "to be able to show President Roosevelt the names of hundreds of thousands of Georgia citizens who expressed their admiration for his citizenship and statesmanship, and who are anxious to show the spirit of the state in humanitarian work."

Another point stressed by the chairman was the need for immediate action in order that the hall may be completed by early fall so that it may be presented to the president as chairman of the Foundation upon his visit at that time.

While it was early to expect many subscriptions Thursday, there were many who sent in donations from all sections of the state. Carl F. Dodd, of Peachtree circle, contributed the first dollar in behalf of his son, Merrell Hallman Dodd.

Other subscriptions were received in Atlanta and from points throughout the state. County chairmen were particularly enthusiastic concerning the move and scores of telegrams attested to their co-operation.

It is expected that many subscriptions will be announced today when the Atlanta committee meets at 1 o'clock. Mr. Woolford is chairman of the group, which includes Robert F. Maddox, Major John S. Cohen, Hughes Spaulding, H. Lane Young, Ryburn G. Clay, Marion Smith, Clark Howell Jr., DeWitt King, Frank Neely, Ivan Allen and F. J. McCarthy.

The new structure is planned as a modern fireproof central unit for what is expected later to be a group of buildings at the resort. Georgia Hall will be erected to replace the present old and dangerous Meriwether Inn, which serves as a hotel and residence for infantile paralysis victims. It will contain a dining room, lounge and recreation rooms, kitchen, offices for the staff, and rooms for patients, their relatives and friends.

All checks should be made payable to and mailed to the Treasurer, Georgia Hall Campaign Committee and either brought or mailed to 83 Poplar street. Every penny will go into the building since all expenses of raising the money are borne by the committee members.

A new policy was inaugurated of every member of the board being enrolled into active committee service for the year and under this plan announcement of the following committees was made:

Fair and Colder Day Is Forecast

Fair weather today will bring a drop to 40 degrees in the morning, but the thermometer will climb to 55 degrees during the day, George W. Mindling, United States meteorologist, said Thursday.

The change to colder will be brief, as warming conditions will set in during the day, the weather man said. Thursday's temperatures ranged from 52 to 70 degrees.

Although the weather is moderate in keeping with the fact that spring is here, the danger of frost is not over, and heavy frosts have been recorded into the month of April, Mr. Mindling said.

SAVANNAH GROUP CONFERS ON PLAN FOR RELIEF WORK

A delegation of Savannahans headed by Mayor Thomas Gamble conferred here Thursday with Herman DelaPerriere, director of the Georgia relief administration, and Governor Eugene Talmadge about a local organization for distributing R. F. C. funds in Chatham county.

Mayor Gamble said that 2,840 white families and 4,246 negro families had been helped out of a fund of $121,000 previously obtained by the county and city. The advent of spring, he added, will bring about a decrease in the number of families needing relief.

Future plans for administering the fund include an investigating committee to be headed by Miss Eloise Cleveland, of the Family Welfare Society, Mayor Gamble announced. George L. Googe, former president of the Savannah Trades and Labor assembly, asked the governor to give labor adequate representation on the relief board.

The delegation, which included Judge Arthur Solomon, vice chairman of the board of commissioners, and E. George Butler, industrial commission secretary, invited Governor Talmadge to attend the Georgia Education Association meeting in Savannah April 21 and bi-centennial celebration April 27, 28 and 29.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 23.—(AP) A meeting of bankers from all parts of North Carolina is to be held here Friday at which plans for a state-wide industrial bank with capital of more than $2,000,000 and branches in from 25 to 40 cities.

The proposal will be outlined by Gurney P. Hood, state commissioner of banks, as a part of his program for rehabilitation of the state financial situation following the recent banking holiday.

Hood had already announced that plans for a state-wide commercial bank, rising from the group of state banks which have not re-opened since the holiday, were being considered. Tentative plans call for a $6,000,000 institution, and were reported to involve the North Carolina Bank & Trust Co., with 17 offices, and the Page Trust Company, with 14 offices.

ITALY'S FASCISTS OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

"All Forces of Revolution Intact and Formidable," Says Mussolini.

MILAN, Italy, March 23.—(AP)—All the forces of the fascist revolution are "intact and formidable," said Premier Mussolini today in message to blackshirts who massed here to observe the fourteenth anniversary of the founding of the movement.

Preparatory to a stimulated "second march" on the capital, fascist party founders and various units of the blackshirt movement assembled this morning in San Sepolcro square, where Il Duce 15 years ago delivered his eloquent address which put under way the wave of fascism which resulted in the present government.

Crowds cheered as the blackshirt troops paraded. Throughout the land, all units of the fascist organization met to reaffirm homage to their chief. The premier's historic message was re-read in the square.

Meanwhile preparations went forward for further ceremonies in Rome tomorrow. Widows and mothers of war dead began gathering there for a reception by Il Duce.

Prior to the premier's reception of the women at the Palazzo Venezia, the ceremonies at the capital will be started by a parade to party headquarters at the Palazzo Del Littorio from the fascist revolutionary exhibition building. Opening of a chapel to the war dead in Veneto cemetery and a reception will close the anniversary festivities.

Southern Tennis President Predicts Great Tournament Here

William T. Tilden II has been something of a sharpshooter all his life. He is always casting his barbs here and there in the fish pond of life, as the boys say, and getting a strike.

His legs and his dogs are not what they were. He has slowed down a step or so. But he was the greatest player the game ever saw and no one has come along yet to challenge his position.

He was always shooting a verbal arrow into the air, taking care that it stuck into the epidermis of the U. S. L. T. A., which is a most super-sensitive institution and one which always emitted loud yelps of pain whenever one of Mr. Tilden's arrows landed, which was frequent. Indeed, there was a time when the U. S. L. T. A. looked something like a porcupine, so full it was of the barbs shot by Mr. Tilden.

The rules which the association made were disregarded by Tilden in such a fashion that they could not pin the penalties on him. There was a prodigious sigh of relief when he quit the amateur ranks.

But he kept right on shooting his barbs. He irritated the tennis heads into an open tournament, something which the association hooted at a few years ago.

Mr. Tilden is 40 years old. I do not know how it feels to be 40 years old, but Mr. Tilden obviously does not feel his age. His legs are not what they used to be but he is no older than his dogs and his legs. His legs are about 25 years old. His legs have never observed the birthdays.

It was Mr. Wilbert Robinson, president of the Crackers, who first said that a pitcher is no older than his legs. I asked him if it applied to tennis players. He said it did. He said it applied to anyone. "Even the Atlanta sports writers are no older than their legs," he said.

Mr. Robinson will soon be 66 years old. But his legs are just 23 years old. That is why he is so pert. But to get back to Tilden. He keeps shooting barbs. He irritated Mrs. Helen Willis Moody. He said that there were 100 male tennis players who could defeat Mrs. Moody with ease.

Naturally, this did not sit so well with Mrs. Moody. So she went out and defeated the first two she could get on the court. Mr. Tilden replies that she picked a couple of set-ups.

Ellsworth Vines, who recently cut about $200 worth of strings out of his rackets to restrain his tennis play, declared that he did not care to play against the professionals in the approaching open tennis tournament.

Tilden replied that probably Vines was afraid of the professionals.

When the U. S. L. T. A. began to wonder about the Davis cup next year, Tilden harpooned them again by saying that there was little chance for the United States to regain it.

His last arrow was to the effect that the 12 best professional tennis players could defeat the 12 best amateurs.

HIS FAREWELL TOUR.

When Tilden was in Atlanta last winter he said that this professional tour was his last. When it was done he was going to go into the movies, teach a bit and that sort of thing. But no more competitive tennis for him.

And then the open tournament was announced. Tilden came out of the retirement he never was in and announced that he would play in the open meet. He has a lot of ambition left. And most of it is to beat Ellsworth Vines.

That is why he is casting barbs at him. He wishes to arouse Vines' anger to the point where he will commit Mr. Tilden to the net and enter the tournament.

Bill Tilden is too old to be playing tennis. When a fellow reaches 40 he has no business running for street cars, to say nothing of galloping around after tennis balls. The ordinary man who has reached the 40 does not go around making jibes at people or issuing any athletic challenges. Unless it is for a little quiet foursome on some pleasant afternoon.

The open tournament at the Germantown club will be quite the greatest thing in American tennis. By the time it comes Tilden will have the amateurs so shot full of arrows they will be burning up and perhaps so eager to beat him they will trip over their own dogs.

It is very probable that Tilden's legs are just about 19 years old. He may be 40 but his legs are not.

THE SOUTHERN TOURNAMENT.

The southern tournament will produce some entries in the open tournament. The southern players are not only young but they have even younger legs.

Bryant Grant, the 13th ranking player, can run on his legs longer than a boy of 13. Probably Grant's legs are no older than that.

Frankie Parker, the national junior champion, has recently transferred his allegiance to the south. Cliff Sutter, the third ranking player, is of the south. He and Parker just about make New Orleans the headquarters for southern tennis. Were it not for Bryant Grant, Billy Reese and many other fine young players, Atlanta would not rival the New Orleans lists.

The Atlanta players, who have developed themselves without the aid of a professional, are gradually bringing tennis to the front in Atlanta. The southern tournament, and the scheduled appearance of major stars for matches here, will give Atlanta the greatest summer of tennis the city has had.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Mr. Wilbert Robinson, who evolved the theory that a pitcher is no older than his legs, gives the key to success to all athletes.

"Do not let your legs know when they have a birthday," says your Uncle Wilbert Robinson. "I once knew a pitcher who deceived his legs. He told his legs that he was born on the 29th day of February. The legs did not know the difference. He deceived them for years and years. He kept getting along in years.

"Pretty soon he was 40 years old but he kept pitching. His legs had just had 10 birthdays. So they kept him going.

"But one day his legs happened to learn the truth about this birthday business. So they suddenly became 40 years old and the pitcher was through."

The idea is to keep the legs young.

Dunn and Johnson

On Fort Mac Card

Dynamite Dunn, of West Point, and Bull Johnson, Fort McPherson, will headline the final boxing program of the season, scheduled for Saturday night at the Fort McPherson Service Club. It will be a 10-rounder.

A double semi-windup has been arranged between Battling Bohannon and Tommy Ryan and Frankie Allen and Billy Wilson.

Others on the program are Soldier McCarley, K. O. Padgett and Kid Pint and Buddy Ray.

The 22d Infantry band will furnish music between bouts. The program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Jim Poole Made

Piedmont Manager

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 23.—(UP)—Jim Poole, former first baseman for the Philadelphia Athletics, has been selected to manage the Winston-Salem Twins in the Piedmont league this year, President Jack Whaley, of the club, announced today.

The appointment of Poole completes managerial posts in the league for this year. Other pilots are Eddie Dyer, Greensboro; Johnny Dobs, Charlotte; Bobby Murray, Durham; Blackie Carter, Wilmington, and Jack Onslow, Richmond.

ROBBY EXPECTS TO GET PITCHER FROM MAJORS

Senators, Reds, Browns, or Tigers Likely To Have One.

By Ralph McGill.

Wilbert Robinson would not be very much surprised if he did not snare a pitcher out of the ranks of the Senators, the Browns, the Reds or the Tigers, all of whom will pay a visit to Ponce de Leon park this spring.

He admitted as much yesterday, as he stoked up one of his forty or fifty bright pipes and contemplated the Cracker pitching staff, arraying them in his mind as he saw them, early this week at the camp at Mobile.

"I think we need another pitcher," he said. "I do not know that we will need him the first two or three weeks even, but we will need one more."

"It looked to me," he said, peering out the window at the sun, "as if we'd get at least six good ones out of the lot we have."

LIKES MAYO.

"I liked the way this Doctor Mayo, the kid pitcher, worked. He has a lot of stuff. We must have some rookie pitchers, you know. And I liked the looks of Bob Hasty and Andy Messinger and some of the others."

"But we need another pitcher. And I wouldn't be at all surprised if we didn't get one from the major league clubs that are visiting here."

"Well, I couldn't say," he said, "but I know all those managers and I can talk turkey with them. If I need something and they have it I can get it."

The Cracker president thinks the Southern league is going to see a lot of harsh struggling this season.

ISSUE IN DOUBT.

"This league has never tried the rookie rule before," he said. "I know they are supposed to have tried it, but not until last season did they come anywhere near observing it."

This season they are to have six bona fide rookies, and this leaves the entire issue in doubt.

"There is no way to tell about those kids in advance. The managers with those proved and tried are lucky. We feel we have a good one in Kleinhaner the pitcher. He may stay here as I said. That's all up to Charley Moore."

"But the race is going to have some surprises. There is a fellow who the kids will do. We'll just have to wait and see."

The president has not changed his mind since Tuesday. He still thinks the Crackers will have a first-division team.

Crackers Play Semi-Pros Today.

MOBILE, Ala., March 23.—Rapidly closing out their training stay here the Crackers will play games with local semi-professional teams tomorrow and Sunday at Hartwell field. The squad will hold a snappy workout here Monday and then leave immediately for Montgomery, Ala., where Minneapolis is to be played Tuesday and Wednesday en route home. The Crackers will meet Washington at Atlanta Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Manager Moore announced tonight he would work the veteran Climax Bladen and young Hugh Casey. Also, tomorrow's game, Moore gave his men one of the hardest workouts of the training period this morning under a blistering sun. Following a conference between Business Manager Chick Ross and Mobile city officials this morning it was decided that the Crackers will train here again next year, unless Mobile gets a professional team of its own in the meantime. The weather has been ideal here.

AMERICAN ENTRY FAVORED TODAY IN GRAND CHASE

Betting Shifts to Heartbreak on Eve of Big Event; Odds 8-1.

By Frank H. King.

Associated Press Staff Writer. AINTREE, Eng., March 23.—(AP)—A sudden switch in betting odds establishing Heartbreak Hill, American-owned entry, as the favorite in a field of 34 jumpers, tonight added a sensational touch to preparations for the 94th running of the classic Grand National steeplechase. Post time tomorrow is 3 p. m. (10 a. m. E. S. T.).

Odds on the big, eight-year-old Irishbred mare, owned by Mrs. C. S. Bird Jr., of Boston, dropped to 8 to 1 after previous quotations of 20 to 1. They were hammered down by late reports on the condition of Heartbreak Hill, which finished fifth among nine finishers in the Grand National last year.

THRILL FOR U. S.

The rise in Heartbreak Hill's stock gave the American contingent here a thrill and displaced the previously favored British pair, Mrs. M. A. Gennell's Greengalch, a former winner, and Dorothy Paret's Golden Miller. Latest betting figures held Golden Miller as second choice at 10 to 1 and Greengalch third at 100 to 1.

Heartbreak Hill will carry 163 pounds as compared with 175 for Greengalch and 170 for Golden Miller. Mrs. Bird's jumper is by far the out-standing hope in the American list of nine entries. Tonight's call-over rated John Hay Whitney's Dusty Foot, to be ridden by the noted George H. (Pete) Moore, at 66 to 1, and Mrs. T. H. Somerville's Troublemaker at the bottom of the list, at 200 to 1. J. A. Drake's Coupe De Champion was at 30 to 1 and inside the first 10.

The odds on Greengalch, 1929 winner, increased to 100 to 8 after his jockey, J. Fawcett, broke a collarbone in a fall today. W. Pervin will be astride the big gelding tomorrow.

Meanwhile, from every part of Britain, from every walk of life, the vanguard of an expected crowd of 150,000 began converging on this little Liverpool suburb today.

ABOUT THE RACE.

As the outcome of the race, it is a fair guess only that not all will finish. At least they never have. There was racing at the track this afternoon. Hostwick piloted his own horse, Flamingo, to victory in the Lancashire hurdle race.

Hostwick's victory was not over the National course, where a great hurdle lay inside the big jumps. He saw Aintree's famous jumps for the first time, however, inspecting Becher's and Valentine's brooks and the other big hedges.

"They're big—ever bigger than I thought," he said, after looking over the famous hedges. "I don't think I can do it."

The popular little American was confident of making a good showing, particularly after Dusty Foot's morning workout.

The other American horses, including Troublemaker, the only American-bred jumper in the race, had their final workouts this morning. With his American rider, Noel Laine, in the saddle, Troublemaker breezed seven furlongs to loosen up his muscles and lungs.

Heartbreak Hill, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Kellsboro Jack, and F. Ambrose Clark's Chaddis Ford, also worked seven furlongs. Chappin, M. D. Blair's Ballyhawwood and J. R. Snow's Delanize were out for short trials.

The other man promised ideal racing conditions.

Tennis Head Here

A. K. Tigrett, left, president of the Southern Lawn Tennis Association and Billy Reese, Georgia, Cotton States and Atlanta champion, are shown after a match Thursday afternoon on the Piedmont Driving Club courts. Tigrett is in the city on a business trip, but took time out for a match with the Georgia champion and also to discuss plans for the Southern Tennis tournament to be played here during the week of June 26.

HURST REMAINS ONLY IMPORTANT MAJOR HOLDOUT

Joe Stripp and Frankie Frisch Agree to Terms.

By Alan Gould.

Associated Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The capitulation of Joe Stripp to the salary terms of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 1935 left only one conspicuous survivor of the baseball hold-out wars, Don Hurst, of the Phillies, still engaged in the wage battle that began the first of the year.

Hurst has remained at the Phillies camp at Winter Haven, Fla., in the hopes of reaching an agreement with General Nugent, president of the club. The latest reports are that Nugent has withdrawn the small increase he originally offered the first baseman and insists that Don sign on the club's terms or not at all.

FRANKIE SIGNS.

Frankie Frisch, arriving tonight in the Cardinals headquarters at Bradenton, Fla., immediately signed. He probably will jump into action at third base before the end of the week to help Gabby Street find the solution of the Red Bird infield problems.

Stripp, the very essential third sacker of the Dodgers, followed Babe Ruth and the Ferrell brothers—Rick, of the St. Louis Browns, and Wesley, of the Cleveland Indians—in agreeing to salary terms this week. Ruth compromised by regaining eight per cent of the original Yankee salary—$2,000 out of $25,000. His salary of $52,000 for the year is still the biggest in baseball, by a margin of about $20,000.

Wes Ferrell will get $3,000 bonus if he wins 20 games against Rick Ferrell also gained a compromise.

OWNERS' YEAR.

On the whole the magnates of both the American and National leagues have had the owners' year as well as the players' year. The New York club have been cut in the aggregate about 25 per cent, or in round figures, close to $500,000.

The world champion Yankees probably have made the biggest reductions, although they were one of the two clubs to keep out of the red by a slim margin in 1932. The New York club's salaries, it is estimated, will be $100,000 lower this season. Only two pitchers, Johnny Allen and Vernon Gomez, were conceded increases in pay.

The Athletics, due mainly to the sale of such high-priced stars as Simons, Dykes and Egan, as well as the departure of Captain Eddie Collins to the Boston Red Sox, probably have reduced their payroll by no less than $75,000.

FRANK PARKER IS NEW MEMBER OF ASSOCIATION

Tigrett, on Visit, Sees Atlanta as Coming Net Metropolis.

By Roy White.

Youth and aggressiveness will be an outstanding feature of the southern tennis tournament, which will be played on the new Biltmore Club courts during the week of June 26 at Peachtree and Fourth streets, according to A. K. Tigrett, president of the Southern Lawn Tennis Association.

Tigrett is in the city on business, but took time out Thursday long enough to discuss plans for the coming tournament and also to play a few games with Billy Reese, winner of the Georgia, Cotton States and Atlanta championships last year. He sees a most successful tournament here in June.

The Southern association president commended highly the play of Frankie Parker, national junior champion, who recently transferred his membership from the Western to the Southern association; Bryan Grant Jr., former national champion; Cliff Sutter, third ranking singles star; Wilmer Hines, Lefty Bryan, Kendall and Donald Cram, Teddie Burwell, Billy Reese and Cecil Metz, promising young southern stars.

"There are others in the south who are rapidly forging to the front ranks and the 1935 tournament should see many of the youngsters contesting for the title up to the last day," Tigrett said.

Parker is by far the best junior champion the United States has had in years and one of the most promising players in the country today. Tigrett added, Parker is being coached by Merle D. Vines, who has developed Vines, Sutter and many other outstanding stars.

Tigrett was very much impressed with two recent tennis leagues that have been formed here and stated that with more than 125 courts in use during the spring and summer months, the city should soon become the tennis metropolis of the south.

Bob Godwin Meets Maxie Rosenbloom Tonight for World Title

GEORGIA BOY IS UNDERDOG AT NEW YORK

Light-Heavy Crown Will Go to Winner; Rosenbloom Favored.

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—Bob Godwin, newest of boxing's southern sensations, comes into Madison Square Garden tomorrow night with his "maw" and "paw," just as Willie Stripling used to do, to fight Maxie Rosenbloom 15 rounds for the world's light-heavyweight championship.

Furthermore, the 21-year-old boy from Adel, Ga., brings with him the claims, awarded him by the National Boxing Association, that match Rosenbloom's recognition as champion by the New York state athletic commission. To the winner will go the undisputed right to the 175-pound crown, bagged over since the day Tommy Loughran stepped down to fight heavyweights in 1929.

ROSY FAVORED. Only two weeks ago, in the same ring, Rosenbloom, most unorthodox warrior of the day and about as difficult as any to beat, slapped out a victory over Adolph Heuser, clouting young German. Tomorrow night Godwin, although he twice has held the slapstick champion to draws while losing one decision, is the underdog at 3 to 1 in very light wagers.

Twice before young Godwin, managed by his father, Arthur Godwin, appeared in New York rings, both times against heavyweights. He outpointed Arthur Huttick, one of the Garden's "new talent," shows two years ago, then beat "Red" Barry, of Washington, in a preliminary on the Schmeling-Walker heavyweight tilt last summer.

While he has nothing like the record of Rosenbloom, who fought all the leading light-heavyweights of the past half dozen years and has beaten most of them, Godwin has developed steadily since confining himself to 175-pound opposition.

He won N. B. A. recognition as champion by defeating Joe Knight at West Palm Beach, Fla., the first day of this month. Twice in a row, when only 17, he licked Mike McTigue, but the next best showing in his record is three victories over Battling Bozo, of Birmingham, Ala.

GODWIN SMART. "We know Maxie is smart," says "Ma" Godwin, who, unlike Willie Stripling's "ma," refuses to sit closer to her son's fights than the tenth row, "but I'm sure Bob will be just as smart as Maxie."

She sees that Bob "gets his food cooked right."

Bob's father, who used to own a laundry in Florida, is equally sure his son will win, despite the foreboding odds in Rosenbloom's favor.

"He never had any instruction except a correspondence course I bought him years ago for $21.50," he said today. "After he finished the lessons he got knocked out twice in one fight, the first time when the referee got too excited to count and the bell saved him at the end of the first round; the second time when he came out for the second round."

"Bob threw away the lessons and he's done all right since."

Billy Jones, negro light-heavyweight from Philadelphia, and Tony Shucro, a promising Boston youngster, meet in an eight-round semi-final.

Cavalry Poloists Play Ft. McPherson

Fort McPherson's polo team will meet the team from the sixth cavalry of Fort Oglethorpe at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the first of a two-game series at Fort McPherson. The crack sixth cavalry outfit, captained by Colonel Gordon Johnston, commanding officer of the post, is fresh from a series of games with the Augusta team.

The cavalry tied the first game against the Augustans, won the second by a two-goal margin, and captured the third. The team is well mounted and the horses are perfectly trained.

The sixth is one of the best army teams in the southeast and the game Sunday will provide plenty of thrills. Parking spaces for cars will be arranged, and benches will be placed alongside the polo field. A small admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to defray the expenses of the game.

Yates Shoots 66 On Old Course

Charlie Yates, Georgia amateur champion, added another sub-par round and one of his best during the past few months, when he carded a 66, five strokes under par, on the old course at East Lake Wednesday. Yates was playing with W. C. Warren, Jim Malone and Charlie Nunnally.

On the outward nine Yates carded at 34, two strokes under par, and came back with a 32, in the back nine, as his putter was working perfectly.

Yates won the Radium Springs amateur trophy Sunday, at Albany and his fine round Wednesday is but another step nearer the peak he hopes to reach during the late spring and early summer in the national intercollegiate and the Georgia amateur.

Yates will pass up the southern, but hopes to qualify to take the stand until the open and the amateur in the sectional eliminations here.

FRANK FRISCH SIGNS; CARDINAL INFIELD IS SET

Salary of Former Fordham Flash Is Not Revealed.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Frank Frisch, outfielder and Joe Mauer, pitcher, of the St. Louis Cardinals, signed his 1933 contract late today after a conference with Sam Brandon, president of the club, and Branch Rickey, vice president.

Salary terms of his contract were not revealed. A contract sent to Frisch several weeks ago contained the stipulation that his salary was to be based partly on the Cardinals' gate receipts and his performance in games. Frisch received a flat salary of $18,500 last year.

With the "Fordham Flash" available for third base, the Cardinals now have a formidable lineup for infield.

CUBS LOSE. SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—(AP)—The Mission Reds, of the Pacific Coast league, defeated the Chicago Cubs of the National league, 13 to 10, in a wild game here today. The Missions pounded Bud Tinning, roly-poly twirler of the Cubs, for five runs, three hits and six errors in the fifth. Jurgens, Cub shortstop, hit a home run.

TIGERS. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 23.—(AP)—Pete Fox, fleet-footed youngster slated for the centerfield position with the Detroit Tigers, is expected to help both Gerald Walker and John J. Reilly, outfielders, in the coming season. Fox, who is a native of the South, is a former player of the St. Louis Cardinals, but was released by them last season, thus removing work from the shoulders of Walker, and allowing Stone more freedom in right field.

CARDS WIN. BRADENTON, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Although the Boston Red Sox outlasted the St. Louis Cardinals, the National leaguers nosed them out of a 2-1 game here today.

The Sox, playing their first game away from their Sarasota camp, put on a batting surge and picked Walter Duggan and Bob Weiland for the Cards to seven hits, most of which came in the second and third innings, when they scored their pair of tallies.

WHITE SOX WIN. SANTA CRUZ, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Lefty Al Simmons, the Chicago White Sox pounded out a 13-5 victory over Seattle's Indians here today in an exhibition game that saw the lead changed often in a wild scramble.

Simmons, former Philadelphia Athletics leader, garnered four hits in six trips to the plate. One was a long double.

INDIANS BEAT PELLS. NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—(AP)—Bill Knickerbocker, of the Cleveland Indians, and Eddie Egan, of New Orleans, each banged out a home run today as the Indians took an erratic exhibition contest from the Pelicans, 12 to 7. In their half of the 14th, the International leaguers lifted the bags with none out, but a foul out and a snappy double play killed their chances to score.

SAVOLDI, ZARNOS TO MEET HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Jumping Joe Has Risen Fast in Pro Mat Game.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 23.—There are more old trails of sport running in and out of California than any other three states could show. For example, a little to the north, at Stockton, Alamo Stagg is now busy with the spring training at the College of the Pacific.

Stagg today, in sport, goes back nearly fifty years, when he was a Yale end and a Yale pitcher. Yet, half a century later, he is one of the busiest coaches on any spring field. The old man has between forty and fifty candidates at work and he is driving them with a lot of pep and dash.

You may not know it but Stagg, even today is good for one fast set of tennis. He can still step around, and they are finding this out at his new California home.

Two of his hardest games next fall are St. Mary's and Loyola, and he is as keen as ever on making at least a good showing.

As Stagg seems west, Pop Warner starts east from Stanford. Pop's athletic career goes back 40 years, when he played guard at Cornell.

The entire west coast is extremely interested in what he will do at Temple, his new home.

In the meanwhile, Thornhill and Nevers have pretty good material to work with at Stanford, especially backfield material, but it will take some pretty tall hustling to build up a line that can hold off the mighty forward wall that Howard Jones has at Southern California.

Another old time trail just led into Los Angeles. It comes from Pittsburgh, Pa., and it brings in Housh Wagner.

Old Hans, known as the Flying Dutchman, was a big leaguer 37 years ago, but those 37 years have not taken away any of his keenness or his love of baseball. He can still swing a bat with the same old fine free lank, and he can still smother an infield grounder with a great pair of hands.

But naturally, the whip is gone out of the old arm and there is little spring left in the old legs. If some expert surgeon could give him a new pair of legs and a good right arm, old Housh today would be the best shortstop in baseball.

Stagg, Warner and Wagner go far back into the traditions of American sport. They belong to the tribe of "far away and long ago." But the remarkable part is they are all three still on the firing line and active workers in the new season that is just ahead.

They have proved that a man does not have to quit at 60 or 70 even in sport, if he can still feel the old thrill and get a kick out of his game.

All they need is to send for Connie Mack to hold a reunion. A lot of us would like to be there to sit and listen.

Bulldog Golfers Book Four Matches

ATLANTA, Ga., March 23.—(AP)—The University of Georgia golf team will play a schedule of four intercollegiate engagements this year.

Early McWilliams, of Rome, Ga., runner-up in the 1932 Southern conference championship, likely will be the No. 1 man for Georgia.

Warner, also of Rome; Nat Schuchter, of Athens; Billups Johnson, of Athens; Milton Leathers, of Athens; Morton Hodgson Jr., of Athens, and Eugene Killian, of Macon, are other candidates.

As a feature of the two engagements with Georgia Tech, matches will be between faculty teams of the two institutions.

SOUTHERN GIRLS MOST POPULAR IN CAGE EVENT

Amuse Audience With Yells of "H' Ya Honey"; Brunettes Liked

WICHITA, Kan., March 23.—(AP)—This girls' basketball is anything but sissy.

It's a rough and tumble mill, full of clean action and without the slightest sign of the stall that minimizes the entertainment value of men's basketball.

Up to the quarter-finals of the National A. A. U. tournament here only one girl was caught weeping in public. The only casualties more than serious than bruises were a broken tooth and a dazed head resulting from a collision of two teammates.

Scratches administered inadvertently are in evidence, but hair-pulling apparently went out with the bloomer girl era.

Girls from the south are favorites with the spectators. The fans mimic their calls of "H'ya, honey," when they think the ball should be passed to them.

Sybil Stumph, the tall, brown-haired beauty queen from Jacksonville, Fla., doesn't aspire to be a Babe Didrikson. Fern Dry, runner-up for the beauty honor, is a quarter-blood Cherokee from the Chillicothe Indian school in Oklahoma.

First and second choices of the audience are both tall and brunette. They tower six inches above the attractive, third-place winner, Clara Fletcher, pony member of the Canadian (Texas) Crazy Cats.

There is an intangible something that binds the solid south together. The Shamrocks from Jacksonville, Fla., lost by a decisive margin to Shreveport, La. Members of each team applauded, even the other squad did anything spectacular, and there was a good bit of interteam back-slapping.

Stalling is taboo under the women's rules because of the single dribble and the law decreeing the ball must be passed within three seconds after receipt. A peculiarity of the rules is that the centers turn their backs to their own objective goals at the tip-off.

Others who spoke for the bill were Aldermen G. Everett Millican, who pointed out the high entry fees assessed candidates by the present committee and others.

The hearing on the Druid Hills incorporation bill lasted for nearly two hours, the proponents of the bill being headed by George West and Hal Lindsey, as assistant United States district attorney, who lives in the area, while those urging the veto were headed by J. ## UTILITY FIRM PROTESTS FORCED HIGHER RATES

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—The unusual happened in the supreme court today when a corporation protested it was being deprived of constitutional rights by being required to charge higher rates than it desired.

The question came up in an appeal by the Montana public service commission to set aside an order of the lower courts permitting the Great Northern Utilities Company to charge lower gas rates in Shelby, Mont., than the commission had fixed. A number of the justices indicated by their questions that they did not see how a corporation could complain of the action of a regulatory commission because the rates prescribed were too high.

The Chesterfield FORMULA—what is it?

The formulas and processes which make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette are secret—to prevent others from copying them

If every person knew the method and processes of tanning leather, it would be of interest; but what people want to know is: Is it a good shoe? Is it comfortable? Will it wear longer? Is the price right?

So it is with Chesterfield Cigarettes. If smokers, men and women, knew all of the formulas and processes of manufacture, it would be of interest to them; but what smokers really want is the result.

Everything that goes into Chesterfield Cigarettes is as good as money can buy.

Every process has in it all that science knows about cigarette manufacture.

The formulas are secret to prevent others from copying them. The mildness and the better taste you may prove for yourself. May we ask you to try Chesterfield?

Wherever you buy

Miss Finch and Rev. Leggett Wed At Druid Hills Church Ceremony

The Druid Hills Methodist church formed the setting last evening for the marriage of Miss Louise Finch to Rev. John Willard Leggett Jr., of McComb, Miss., which was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock before an assemblage of relatives and friends. The marriage service was read by Dr. R. L. Russell, presiding elder of the Atlanta district.

Mrs. W. A. DeLamar, organist, and Dorene McCormick, violinist, rendered a program of nuptial music. Charles White sang "At Dawning" and "Because," preceding the ceremony. During the service "To a Wild Rose" was played.

Palm, foliage plants and smilax served as a rich background for the stately bride, who was escorted by the groom's brother, Mr. John Leggett. The bride wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword.

The bridesmaids wore modish gowns of various shades of blue and white. The groomsmen wore tuxedos. The ceremony was held in the sanctuary of the church, which was filled with guests. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The beautiful young bride entered the church with her father, James Landrum Finch, who gave her in marriage. They were joined at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Fred St. Amant.

The bride's veil of white tulle fastened to the top of her head with a wreath of orange blossoms, and completely enveloped her figure. Orange blossoms were caught at intervals to the veil.

Following the church ceremony Mr. and Mrs. James L. Finch entertained the bride party, out-of-town guests and relatives at a reception at their home on Harvard road. They were assisted in receiving by the bride and groom.

Signs of a Storm

By Zane Grey

Early in October Ben and Modoc rode over the high range, Ben mounted on his newly-broken magnificent roan stallion, California Red. There was a tang in the air and a quietness that seemed to impend some change. The familiar honk, honk, honk of the last southward flight of geese floated down from the blue with surprising distinctness.

"What do they say, Modoc?" Ben queried. The Indian turned his gaze on the darkly sinister, red and purple sunset, and from that to the wonderful panoply of clouds over the grey sage hills. "Heep storm soon, Heep rain—snow—big winter," replied Modoc, with his inscrutable mystic gleam of eye, and his slow majestic gesture toward the horizon.

Folly Island

By Wallace Irwin

SYNOPSIS

Bart Burgess is married to a girl on Folly Island, 50 miles from his Long Island home in Waterville. His companion, Ingalls Frederick Warren, spoiled child of a new made fortune, known as "Money Bag," comes to town and sends Bart help and takes home. A girl in Waterville, less than a week later, Fredon Burgess, Bart's father, died suddenly from a heart attack. Bart is left with the care of his invalid mother. The family lawyer gives Bart a letter left for him by his father, in which he confesses to being a gambler. The lawyer of Folly Island, one of his second family, then comes to Bart's home. He asks Bart, for his mother's sake, to guard the secret and leaves a fortune to provide for the lawyer. Bart calls on Mrs. Warren, posing as a lawyer, and finds her a lovely woman, not the barren he expected. He returns a week later with the lawyer. Bart is happy to learn from her mother that Alice isn't Matthew Warren's daughter. Bart to keep her from visiting his home and seeing his father's pictures is now a problem. He sees a lot of Mrs. Warren, a distant relative and recent divorcee. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

"But don't you want it so soon?" "That's what I want, more than anything. That's what makes me cry. I want it so." Now she was smiling at him. "Bart, you're such a regular."

"Shall we make it two or three weeks?"

"Middle of September, O. Bart!"

"Well, you just settle the date, and—"

"Gosh, here comes a gang! Many footsteps were tating along the flag-pole, Lora rose in haste. "Give me time to blow little powder my way. I'll be back—"

Shortly after this it was apparent that the Warrens had taken a new girl; and this was made manifest before Bart's eyes. He happened to be in his room, looking out the bay window when a dreadfully noisy phantasm, all streamlines and silver gadgets, came up the main driveway and stopped by the front door. The top was up, and from under it came Ingalls Warren, full of manner. He opened a side door and elaborately, carefully helped Miss Augusta Forrester down. Aunt Augusta, holding her like a white chrysanthemum to her breast, was covered by the purplish silk tent she wore on grand occasions. It was refreshing to watch her coquetting down at Ingalls Warren. And Ingalls, clad like a lily in white flannels, was bidding her a charming good-by. What a hold he had on women, even the old ones. But why was he, of all the people in the world, taking so much pains with Aunt Augusta?

A little later Bart met Aunt Augusta, more soberly clad, surging toward her duties in the garden. When she saw him her big face revealed a certain embarrassment, but she spaced her words carefully with the question: "Bart, aren't you home rather early?"

"It was so boiling hot in town," he explained. "I decided to knock off." Then, because she was moving toward the garden again, "Congratulations on your beau, Aunt Augusta."

"Don't draw on your imagination. With something like a smirk. "At my age one may be permitted a little latitude, I think."

"Of course, if you don't mind being talked about. There was method in his teasing. "But now that you've grabbed Ingalls you'll have half the girls in Waterville laying for you with poison pens."

"It would be in better taste," said she severely. "If you'd let me explain, I had tea with the Warrens yesterday. Delightful people."

"Really? Don't I remember your saying that they were very new people?"

This gave her pause. But the chronic detective story reader was able to meet that.

"Do you know that they are related to the Pinkneys and the Warrens of Newport—not at all like the newcomers on Bellevue avenue. The real Newporters, who came from London and entertained Lafayette."

"The curse is off," grinned Bart. "And out of that came Ingalls Warren."

"He's a very thoughtful young man," said Aunt Augusta. When he came suddenly to somebody who writes. It is really very authentic, and the room where Washington slept has been kept in period. Aunt Augusta coughed and added, "And that's all there is to it."

If she hadn't coughed and made that last remark possibly Bart might have believed that Ingalls Warren had gone suddenly to somebody who writes. It is really very authentic, and the room where Washington slept has been kept in period. Aunt Augusta coughed and added, "And that's all there is to it."

Then mother went on talking about the wedding, which was set for the 21st of September. It was lucky for Kate Lind that they'd settled on a small affair, as Kate couldn't afford any heavy expenses. Large weddings are such a drain on people, unless they are very well to do. And about their going away—mother never spoke of it as a honeymoon—of course they could go to Scotland and have Lord Dunstan's place for the shooting. Or wouldn't it be better to go to France for a few weeks, then come back by way of England?

"I'll take that up with Lora," he said.

"Haven't you children settled anything yet?" Bart, you're usually so decided in what you want. You mustn't let Lora get you into drifting habits. She needs someone to decide things for her."

This from mother, whose decisions were so few and far between.

Bart Burgess used to enjoy teasing his mother about her Waterville flower show, making up puns on the "old ladies' field day"—high-jumping record for hydrangeas, the hundred-dollar prize for crocus, ten-inch dahlias winning prizes in the weight-throwing class. He liked to pretend a gentle tolerance of mother's addiction to the Garden club and to accuse her of worldly ambition since she had become president of the local organization.

But this year he was wasting no effort on careless jokes. Going about his business, meeting things as best he could, brooding a great deal in secret, pumping up his jollity when he had a, he was conscientiously preparing himself for matrimony. When he called on Lora now he found her at home. Twice a week he dined at her mother's house, and as often Lora and Mrs. Lind dined with the Burgesses. Lora was on her good behavior and gave public exhibitions of drawing room dulness.

The autumn flower show was in the air, and now it was echoing through the Burgess house. The head gardener held long and learned conferences with the ladies who looked upon the disbanding of dahlias as a sacred rite.

This year it was to be a three-day show, in the Country Club's ballroom. Men with hammers were busy building shelves and tables. Waterville streets were cluttered with truckloads of shrubs, trees, and squares of Japanese grass. It was to be a large, expensive hubbub, and because she loved flowers so devotedly, Thursday night and Friday night the Burgesses ate and drank dahlias with indigestible Latin names. Lora and Mrs. Lind dined with them on Friday, and when the lovers had a little while to themselves Lora summed it up:

"You scratch my garden and I'll scratch yours—that's Waterville all over. Ma Sadler gets a loving cup for something that looks like a pink 'fougere'—Lora and Mrs. Lind. Then Ma Sadler hands Mrs. Trevor Burgess the royal dog collar for the largest Eskimo daisy ever captured alive. You know, I'll drive around with the lovers a little while to themselves Lora summed it up:

CITY SCHOOL LEADERS
MAP ECONOMY SURVEY

Sutton, Hunter and Cliff Will Recommend Savings to Special Committee.

Administration heads of the Atlanta public school system, headed by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent, will conduct a preliminary survey of schools with a view of recommending economies. It was decided Thursday night at a lengthy session of a special committee of the board of education.

Sutton will be aided by H. Reid Hunter and Thomas W. Cliff, assistant superintendents, and when they have compiled their recommendations the committee will receive them, make any changes necessary and then offer them to the board, according to the committee action.

Alderman W. W. Waits, chairman of council's school committee, told the board's subcommittee that schools must live within the actual money income for the year and asserted that schools must not and will not close because of an anticipated money shortage. He cites cuts made in other departments.

The school superintendent pointed out that the depression and the present economic instability have added to school problems here. He said that the administration expected 200 to matriculate in Commercial High school in the February semester, but that twice that number had applied for admission. He held that was caused by inability of the excess number to obtain employment and a decision on their part to improve themselves while awaiting openings in the business world.
